Mr. Bayard Gets in His Speech on the Army Bill.

The Flood Gate at Last Opened in the House.

And an Almost innumerable Sluice of Bills Introduced.

The Patagonian Exensiorists at Tuscumbia, Alabama.

XLVI CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 21.

The Senate, shortly after meeting, resumed the consideration of the Army Appropriation bill.

Mr. Bayard defended the incorporation of general legislation in the Appropriation bill, there being nothing unusual in it. Hence the cry of revolution was unsubstantial and foolish, and which the people would condemn.

Mr. Bayard said the Constitution expressly provided that no army appropriation should be for more than two years, in order to keep the existence of the army in the hands of the people's representatives. Before 1874 two-thirds of the legislation relating to the army was placed on army appropriation bills. To accompany a vote of money for the army with directions for its use, was eminently proper, though in general he conceded the impropriety, but not the unconstitutionality of attaching extraneous legislation to appropriation bills. To use troops at the polls was to destroy the freedom of elections. Force and freedom cannot co-exist.

Mr. Bayard having referred to the presence of United States troops in New York city at the November election of 1870, Mr. Blaine asked him why he did not cite a case nearby, where Buchanan, in 1827, ordered out the United States marines in a municipal election, and seven citizens were killed within a mile of the Capitol.

Mr. Bayard replied that he was citing an instance nearer in time, if not in place, and added: "Any man or party infringing the liberty of the citizen will meet my condemnation now and at all times."

Applause. He condemned all action tending to retard the advent of good feeling between the sections, and concluded by expressing his confidence that the people would support the majority in their present legislation which was in the direction of justice and individual freedom.

Mr. Maxey followed. He said that the Constitution did not confer on the United States Government the authority to regulate elections, therefore it could not be unconstitutional to repeal or modify a law allowing such action. The present law interfered with the prerogative of the State Government, which alone had authority to protect its citizens in right of lawful assembly for purpose whatever. Free government rests upon a free ballot and falls with it. The Democratic party could afford to be condemned for acting on this principle. In reference to Mr. Blaine's remarks about ex-Confederates becoming Senators Mr. Maxey said they were here by right, and did their duty—not stirring up civil strife, but believing in and endeavoring to hasten the era of genuine brotherhood. Mr. Blaine had also alluded to President Lincoln.

Mr. Maxey said they all accorded to Mr. Lincoln's fairness of thought and fearlessness in action. His words, "With malice toward none, with charity for all," were adopted by the South, which acted on her conviction of right, and endeavored to build up the waste places of the war and bring back prosperity to the whole country.

HOUSE.

The House is proceeding with the regular order of business, reference of bills introduced, under call of States. A bill for the distribution of unexpended balance of the Geneva award was introduced by Mr. Frye, and three financial bills by Mr. Murch, of Maine.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The House Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads to-day took up for consideration, and will endeavor to report during the present session upon memorials from different sections of the country, complaining of the passage of obscene matter through the United States mails.

Mr. A. B. Hurt, of Mississippi, has been appointed Clerk to the House Committee on Post Offices and Postroads.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a call this evening for $24,586,000 of ten-forty bonds, constituting the residue of those issued under the act of March 3, 1864.

The business in the House of Representatives to-day was confined to the introduction of bills under the call of States, the unprecedented number of 1,335 being offered, among which were the following:

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Hubert O. Thompson, County Clerk, has written a letter to Grand Sachem Augustus Schell in reply to an invitation to attend an election of the Tammany Society to-night, that he and his friends will not participate in the election, for the reason that Tammany Hall attempts to exclude from the councils of the Democratic party 40,000 Democratic voters of New York, has lost its reputation for intelligence and independence and does not permit fair elections. Mr. Thompson says that a bogus opposition ticket may be run, but that it will only be a sham and not sustained by him or his friends.

FOREIGN NEWS.

LONDON, April 21.—The vessel with which the Gellert was in collision was the British brig Rosella Smith, from New York for Rancun.
Gellert sustained slight damage to her upper works, and one of her boats smashed. The Rosella Smith lost her foremast jibboom and main top mast, and had a boat smashed and sustained other damage. The collision occurred at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, 20 miles southwest of Bishop's Rock, Scilly. The Gellert was towed by the Rosella Smith to Scilly.

The steamer Gilbert, from Hamburg, by way of Havre, for New York, was in collision with another vessel Sunday, and arrived at Scilly, where she was detained until this morning, when she gave $250,000 bonds to proceed.

LAHORE, April 21.—Gen. Roberts is ready to start on a march through Shitargarden Pass with two splendid brigades with which he will be able to occupy Cabul even unassisted by other columns.

PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—Gen.
Stolpnie has received instructions to take the necessary measures to commence the evacuation of Ron-melia May 3d.

MINOR DISPATCHES.

TUSCUMBIA, ALA., April 21.—
Henry St. P. Tudor and Louis H.
Ayme, the Patagonian travellers, arrived Friday. This morning they resumed their journey southward.

FREDERICK, MD., April 21.— The jury of inquest upon the recent lynching of the negro, James Carroll, returned a verdict that he was hanged by men unknown to the jury.

Democratic all the Same.
From the Louisville (Ky.) Post (Dem.).
Kentucky will give the Democratic nominee a majority ranging from 40,000 to 75,000, and it matters very little whether it is Tilden or Voorhees, Bayard or Jeff. Davis.
As to opinions, the party in this State has none that would prevent it from supporting any man in the country. Even Ben. Butler, if he succeeds in capturing Massachusetts, and then securing the Democratic nomination, will have a very enthusiastic support in this land of Bourbon; he will no longer be referred to in tones of disrespect, and his insults to the ladies of New Orleans will be forgotten. It will be remembered that he kept yellow fever from that place, and he will be hailed as the hero of New Orleans.

"At home, in sister States, in foreign lands, let the proudest boast of her every son be, I AM A MISSISSIPPIAN!" —Vicksburg Herald. Exactly. That's it. The mightiness of being a citizen of Mississippi is something stalwart and stuning. The grandeur of the sovereignty of Mississippi approximates to the sublimity. The State flag of Mississippi is a sweet boon.—Cincinnati Commercial.

The fact that Mississippi is in the position of a common thief, that she reputations don't seem to affect the cheivry much.

If you have pains in your left side take promptly some of the genuine Dr. C. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa. None can be genuine without their signature. Look for it on every box, the market being full of imitations of the name, McLane, spelled differ-ently but having same pronunciation.

VARIETIES.

Louisiana's sugar crop last year was the largest since the war.

The wife of ex-Senator Christianity is very sick at Washington.

The cotton receipts of Charlotte, N.
C., this year are about 38,000 bales.

Mr. H. W. Longfellow uses an ink-stand which used to belong to the poet Coleridge.

A colored lawyer, G. W. Lytle, was admitted to practice in the Chancery Court at Nashville a few days since.

The Harrison County Fair Association of Kentucky, has been fined $200 for permitting gaming on the grounds.

The Dayton Journal is becoming treasonable. It says: "Gen. Grant will do to ex-om on unil we get down to business."

The Sultan, receiving a message from the Khedive recently, expressed disapproval of the Khedive's conduct, but said that he did not intend to de-throno him.

A London newspaper furnishes the curious and surprising statement that 1,885 out of 2,414 shares in a new brewery company in Sheffield are held by English clergymen.

The people of the States of the Mississippi Valley have been called to meet in convention at Vicksburg, the first of May, to take into consideration the present a situation of the labor question.

Thurman is shrewd. By helping the patriotic Senators to a grab at the public crib, he shows the party what a generous distribution of spoils he would make were he to be elected President. There is no surer way of touching the Democratic heart than this.

It can't be very amusing to be a Judge in Kentucky. To illustrate, the Louisville Age says that Judge Biddle, a few years back, had a bottle thrown at his head while on the bench.

Judge Wickliffe found it necessary to shoot himself behind his desk in order to escape stray pistol balls.
Judge Randall had to abandon court and leave the town of Jackson very expediently. And then is noted the higher phase of development—the rums' shot-gun is brought out, and the County Judge of Breathitt county is killed.

Ayer's Ague Cure,
For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodic Bilious Fever, and indeed all the affections which arise from malarial causes, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

This is a compound remedy, prepared with scientific skill from vegetable ingredients, which rarely fails to cure the several cases of Chills and Fever and the concomitant disorders. Such a remedy the necessities of the people in malarial districts demand. It is a great superiority over any other medicine yet discovered for the cure of Intermittents, in that it contains no quinine or mineral, and those who take it are free from danger of quinine or any injurious effects, and are as healthy after using it as before. It has been extensively employed during the last thirty years in the treatment of these distressing disorders, and so unvarying has been its success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible. It can, therefore, be safely recommended as a sure remedy and specific for Ague and Fever, the Chills, and the Chills and Fever of the South. It counteracts the miasmatic poison in the blood, and frees the system from its influence, so that fever and ague, shivers or chills, once broken up by it, do not return until the disease is again contracted.

The great variety of disorders which arise from the irritation of this poison, such as Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Spasmodic Affections, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Palsy, and other disorders of the stomach, all of which become intermittent or periodical, have no speedier remedy than AYER'S AGUE CURE, which cures them all alike, and protects the system from future attacks. As a preventive, it is of immense service to those communities where Fever and Ague prevails, as it stays the development of the disease if taken early, and the first approach of the preliminary symptoms. Travelers and temporary residents are thus enabled to defy these disorders, and few ever suffer if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity, it is an excellent remedy; it stimulates this organ to healthy activity, and produces many remarkable cures where other medicines fail.
